D-number is a personal identification number assigned by the Central Population Register and will be used in all contexts where there is a need for such identification to Norwegian authorities.

This form is to be used by persons who wish to be assigned a D-number in connection with registration in the Land Register. We will order D-number only in connection with specific probate cases. This form must be completed and submitted along with the document to be registered to The Norwegian Mapping Authority for registration in the Land Register.

The Norwegian Mapping Authority will only be able to order a D-number if you fill out all sections in this form. In addition, you must attach a certified copy of identity document with photo, your full name, birth date, gender and citizenship - such as your passport.

The copy of the identity document must be verified by any Norwegian public authority (tax office, police, NAV, court), notary public, police in any other Nordic country, Norwegian lawyer, Norwegian real estate agent, Norwegian authorized accountant, Norwegian state authorized auditor or Norwegian bank or insurance company.
